

Successful Recipes

to make your Flash content fly

Ingredients

*1 conceptual creative team
1 client looking for Flash content that dazzles
1 sophisticated way to add zest to your presentation, website or web applications
Countless ways to add value*

Method

Flash content can really give your website or your presentation a lift, creating a high visual impact and sophisticated interactivity that creates a new dimension to how you engage with your customers.

Mango's expert Flash content, web design and new media team can create exciting, bespoke Flash content for digital, web and mobile platforms. Working with Flash, we can design innovative Flash animations, attention-grabbing Flash presentations and dynamic Flash websites and applications, helping your message to reach and appeal to the widest audience possible.

From conception to realisation of our marketing plans, Mango provide constructive ideas and help in realising our goals. Our web sites are testament to their creative and professional approach to any project. Our sites are simple to use and have a great visual presence. The production of printed materials and the development of the web sites despite the many changes and last minute tweaks have always been delivered on time and Mango are one of the few suppliers that still care about customer service.

EXTREME X RALLY

Flash is also a great way to add fun and entertainment to your website, through innovations such as Flash based games and short movies, encouraging visitors to explore and spend more time on your website and keep coming back, resulting in more sales.

Whatever you need, we're bursting with fresh Flash ideas to design innovative, dynamic Flash content that engages your audience on a whole new level.
